

635 S. Cook Street - Contributing

At this location is a two-story side-gabled Dutch Colonial Revival style dwelling built ca. 1935. The house has a poured concrete foundation, a gambrel roof of wood shingles, an interior and an exterior wall brick chimney and an exterior of aluminum siding. The main entrance has a ca. 1990, two-vertical-light glass and wood panel door with an original surround of Doric-motif pilasters and a dentilled cornice. Windows are original four-over-one double hung vertical-light sash. At the roofline of the main façade are two, shed roof wall dormers each with a single, four-over-one vertical-light double hung wood sash window and weatherboard siding. On the south façade is an original, shed roof, one-story addition with one-over-one vinyl clad windows.

To the rear of the dwelling is an original, single-bay, frame garage with a steeply pitched gable roof, an exterior of aluminum siding and a wood panel overhead track door. - Contributing

